Crimes Known to the Police - Firearm Related Index Crimes - General Population

number and rate/10,000 persons in general population (2017)

Why This Matters:
New York State Uniform Crime Report Index crimes include data on firearms present during the commission of a murder, forcible rape, robbery, or aggravated assault. Collectively, these are referred to as Violent Index crimes. The number of Violent Index crimes known to police and involving firearms is a key indicator of the seriousness of crime in an area.

The firearm-related crime rate is the number of reported Violent Index crimes where a firearm was present divided by an estimated population, and multiplied by 10,000.
