Why This Matters:
The number and percent of children receiving public assistance is primarily a measure of the extent to which New York State children are dependent on government aid to meet their basic economic needs.

Public assistance programs provide cash aid to meet the basic support needs of individuals and families. To be eligible for public assistance, a family's countable income and resources must fall below certain limits. Families receive the difference between countable income and a standard of need based on their family size and the housing costs for their district. Districts include New York City and each of the Rest of State counties.

The number and percent of children receiving public assistance is primarily a measure of the extent to which New York State children are dependent on government aid to meet their basic economic needs.

Data Provider:
NYS Office of Temporary and Disability Assistance

Data Source:
NYS Office of Temporary and Disability Assistance; Bureau of Data Management and Analysis; Welfare Management System
Children and Youth Receiving Public Assistance number and percent children/youth ages birth-17 years (2010 / 2018)

Why This Matters:
The number and percent of children receiving public assistance is primarily a measure of the extent to which New York State children are dependent on government aid to meet their basic economic needs.

Public assistance programs provide cash aid to meet the basic support needs of individuals and families. To be eligible for public assistance, a family’s countable income and resources must fall below certain limits. Families receive the difference between countable income and a standard of need based on their family size and the housing costs for their district. Districts include New York City and each of the Rest of State counties.

The number and percent of children receiving public assistance is primarily a measure of the extent to which New York State children are dependent on government aid to meet their basic economic needs.

Data Provider:
NYS Office of Temporary and Disability Assistance

Data Source:
NYS Office of Temporary and Disability Assistance; Bureau of Data Management and Analysis; Welfare Management System